

Blended Mental Health First Aid

Training for Community or for the Workplace.

Mental Health First Aid is the help given to someone dealing with a mental health problem or crisis, until appropriate professional treatment is received or until the crisis resolves. Participants will learn the signs and symptoms of these mental health problems, where and how to get help and what sort of help has been shown by research to be effective.

Takeaways from this presentation:

Skills to recognise the signs and symptoms of mental health problems

Knowledge of possible causes or risk factors for these mental health problems

Awareness of evidence based medical, psychological and alternative treatments available

Online

Designed for increased flexibility in the delivery of training, a Blended Mental Health First Aid Course is a combination of online eLearning (about 6 hours) and two 2½-hour follow-on workshops, delivered virtually on consecutive days. Lifeline provides participants with access to their eLearning component so that they can begin their preparation
